

Welcome INN (Interfaith Needs Network) is an ecumenical, nonprofit and all-volunteer organization, has been helping the poor and vulnerable in our South Orange County neighborhood for more than 20 years. Monday through Friday evenings at the public showers station on Doheny State Beach, volunteers serve free meals to homeless and working poor in the Capistrano Beach/Dana Point area. Meals are also served Saturday mornings and Sunday afternoons, ensuring a meal is available every day of the week to those in need. For more information about the vital service Welcome INN provides those in need - men, women and children in our community - visit www.welcomeinnoc.com or call (949) 444-5177.

iHOPE

Interfaith Homeless Outreach Project for Empowerment

iHOPE's mission is to provide basic services to the homeless, at-risk, underserved and the working poor in our South County neighborhood, working through an established network of community partners and an extensive interfaith group of churches and organizations that support its mission. For more information about iHOPE and why their services are so vital, visit the organization's website, <http://www.ihopeoc.org/#!aboutus/cjg9>.

Family Assistance Ministries (FAM) is a homeless prevention agency, providing a "hand-up" in times of need among families and individuals in South Orange County. The agency's goal and mission is to help those in need return to self-sufficiency. For volunteer information, contact FAM volunteer coordinator Lorraine Hoon, 949-492-8477, etc. 115. Habitat for Humanity

25 Years of building hope and building communities

The Habitat for Humanity mission is to end poverty housing worldwide. Twenty-five years ago in Orange County, ago, a local church donated a small space to a group of volunteers who wanted to build simple, decent homes for low-income families. Today, 177 homes have been built and are transforming the lives of families. Individual volunteers, businesses, civic groups and faith groups work under professional supervision alongside Habitat OC families to build homes. This work is made possible by from tax-deductible donations of land and funding from individuals, corporations, faith groups, and foundations. For more information, visit www.habitatoc.org or call (714) 434-6200.
