Welcome Rod Foster

My beautiful bride, Kelleigh, of 27 years this August 11, my 16-year old son Kyle, a junior at Junipero Serra Catholic High School (and a St. Edward’s School graduate), our 11-year old Chocolate Labrador named Guinness, and I moved to Laguna Niguel in the spring of 2013.

From Day 1 in the OC, my family and I have been active St. Edward’s Parishioners assisting with just about anything needing a hand from serving as Master of Ceremonies for complex Masses such as during the Triduum to being certified as Eucharistic Ministers and helping as needed with Church Environment. Outside of St. Edward’s we volunteer at Family Assistance Ministries in San Clemente.

After much discernment, Kelleigh and I were nominated as a Deacon couple by Fr. Brendan last year. After a year of classes and prayer, we have been accepted by the Diocese to begin the 4+ year journey of Diaconate formation. Please pray for us as we further discern God’s will in our lives.

For the past 30+ years, I have served in various roles in City government. Most recently, as the (now retired) City Manager of Laguna Niguel. Prior to my work in the public sector, I worked in the private sector facilitating the west coast edition of two CNN television network newscasts.

As I begin a new vocation as Chief of Parish Operations, I look forward to combining my love of God and His Church with my professional managerial background in order to help us continually grow as a House of Prayer and a House of the Poor. On behalf of my family, I thank Fr. Brendan and the Parish Selection Committee for offering me such a wonderful opportunity to more deeply serve the St. Edward’s family.

Rod Foster
Chief of Parish Operations
I relate well to this passage about Moses:

“Moses’ father-in-law Jethro saw that Moses was exhausting himself judging the people of Israel from sunrise to sunset. Realizing that this was unsustainable, Jethro advised him to organize the people into groups of thousands, hundreds, fifties and tens, and appoint leaders over the groups to judge each. Only the most difficult cases would go to Moses. Moses, to his credit, listened to Jethro and did as he suggested. He didn’t select just anyone, but men who possessed godly wisdom, honored the truth, and were free of covetousness. Moses assigned them to positions of leadership by their ability. As a result of delegating the lesser cases to good men, justice was done and Moses was able to continue his leadership role among the Israelites (Ex 18:14-26).

The Twelve Apostles experienced something similar as well. The Acts of the Apostles tell us that:

“The Twelve Apostles summoned all the disciples and said, ‘It is unacceptable for us to neglect the word of God in order to wait on tables. Therefore, brothers, select from among you seven men confirmed to be full of the Spirit and wisdom. We will appoint this responsibility to them and devote ourselves to prayer and the ministry of the word’ (Acts 6:2-4).

I am always moved each year when I hear pastors say upon their retirement how happy they are to be able to set aside the administrative work and focus on what they love to do – what they became priests to do: preach the Word, celebrate sacraments, visit the sick, serve the poor and spend time with the people of God. But why wait for retirement? Why not do that now?

Our parish is led by a very dedicated and competent staff, two deacons, and many lay leaders who serve on parish councils, committees and ministries. I am so grateful! Even with such great leaders, a lot of my time is spent on administration. I will always remember Pope Francis telling priests that we should “be shepherds living with the smell of the sheep”, that is, we should be spending our time with the people we have dedicated our lives to serve. I’d like to smell more like the sheep and less like my desk.

Therefore, I have created a new position, Chief of Parish Operations (posted previously in the bulletin and advertised on the Diocesan website). The Chief of Parish Operations will work closely with me to manage the temporal affairs of the parish enabling me to focus primarily on the spiritual needs of the parish.

Following the example of Moses and the twelve Apostles, I am going to try to stop doing the things that other people can do (and can do much better than me) and focus on those things unique to my vocation as a priest. When we recognize, appreciate, and use the unique gifts of the laity and the clergy, the church, as the body of Christ, flourishes.

Moses and the twelve Apostles choose people full of the Holy Spirit and godly wisdom to assist them in their ministry. With the help of a parish selection committee, we searched and found such a man in Rod Foster who now begins his ministry among us as Chief of Parish Operations. Please welcome and pray for him.

An Examination of the Seventh Theme of Catholic Social Teaching

Catholic Social Teachings are not optional. According to the Catholic Bishops, these teachings are “the expression of the way that the Church understands society and of her position regarding social structures and changes. The whole of the Church community—priests, religious and laity—participates in the formulation of this social doctrine.” The following describes the seventh theme of Catholic Social Teaching.

Care for God’s Creation

Care for God’s creation was God’s fruitful commandment to humanity and a fundamental requirement of our faith. We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. Care for the earth is not just an Earth Day slogan; it is a requirement of our faith. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God’s creation. This environmental challenge has fundamental moral and ethical dimensions that cannot be ignored.
