Today’s feast of the Ascension of the Lord, traditionally 40 days after the Resurrection, commemorates when Jesus “was lifted up, and a cloud took him from [our] sight” (Acts 1:9). Jesus did not leave us when he ascended into heaven for he told us quite clearly “I will be with you always until the end of time.” (Mth 28:20) The apostles and disciples of Jesus – Christians - continued to follow Christ even after he ascended into heaven.

The Ascension reminds us of the living presence of God among us. We are called and gifted to be able hear and follow Jesus through daily prayer and service until we too are taken up into heaven. As daily disciples of Christ, our challenge is to keep our hearts and souls lifted up and focused on heaven while our feet are firmly fixed on earth. God has granted us great guides and mentors to help with this challenge: mothers.

The Ascension of the Lord and Mother's Day are a perfect pairing for the Christian life. Pope Francis reminds us that “mothers are indispensable to society and the church, showing the world what it means to generously give oneself for others, to respect life and to display tenderness and moral strength even in times of trouble.” As the inertia of worldly and material things tend to pull our hearts down to earthly concerns, it is often Christian mothers who lift our hearts up to heavenly things by teaching us to pray, praying with and for us, and modeling humble and selfless service to others. While fathers and, indeed, the whole Christian community share this privilege and responsibility, mothers seem to do so with warmth and strength that uniquely reflect the love and warmth of God. Pope Francis tells us quite frankly (pun intended) that “a world without mothers would be "inhumane because mothers always know how to give witness - even in the worst of times - to tenderness, dedication and moral strength.”

Pope Francis tells us quite frankly (pun intended) that “a world without mothers would be "inhumane because mothers always know how to give witness - even in the worst of times - to tenderness, dedication and moral strength.”

The month of May is traditionally dedicated to Mary, the Mother of God and our mother. Through various Marian apparitions, Mary regularly calls on us to pray the rosary as individuals and as a family. To pray the rosary is to place ourselves in Mary’s arms as she walks us through her son’s life so that we may more closely imitate Christ and, after our brief journey on earth, share eternal life with him in heaven.

Finally, I want to thank those who don’t normally come to Mass on Sunday but have come today as a gift to your mom. While you have gifted your mom with your presence at Mass, she has given you a greater gift: she has led you to Christ who is truly present in the Eucharist and who wishes to give you the gift of himself. That’s what moms do. To love our mothers is to listen and follow their lead of daily prayer and service not just today but each and every day.

Happy Mother’s Day
